CHICAGO, April 1, 2011-- Prominent Fathers' Rights Attorney Jeffery Leving meets with movie icon Robert Redford at the River East Art Center after the Chicago screening of "The Conspirator" which he directed. Also present is Thomas Ricketts.

The movie tells the story of the trial of Mary Surratt who was accused of being part of a conspiracy in the Lincoln assassination. A major theatrical release is planned for April 15, 2011, the 146th anniversary of the assassination of President Lincoln. The film is financed by the American Film Co., controlled by the Ricketts family, which owns the Chicago Cubs.

Leving owns original historical documents directly related to the Surratt trial which gives documented insight into this event that shook our nation.

Named one of "America's Best Lawyers" by Forbes Radio, Jeffery Leving (<http://dadsrights.com>) is the author of two ground-breaking books, Fathers' Rights and Divorce Wars. He co-authored the Illinois Joint Custody Law and has made frequent appearances as an expert legal analyst and commentator on CNN, CNBC, MSNBC, FOX National News, and ABC News.
